Chairman of the Staanworth Non-Profit Housing Authority, Ed Pergolas, and former Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight, shared the honours as the Staanworth Terrace cornerstone was set in place Wednesday afternoon. The new 32 unit senior citizen apartment complex is expected to open early next year. Also on hand for the ceremony were, from the left, Staanworth treasurer Bob Wiltshire, Pauline Filion, representing CMHC, Dave Selbie representing MPP John Eakins, Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis, Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, MP Bill Scott and Staanworth board member Anthony Samarillo.

Cornerstone set for new complex

The cornerstone of the 32 unit senior citizens apartments in Minden was set in place Wednesday afternoon. The occasion marked the official "birth" of the building, to be known as Staanworth Terrace, which will be the third senior citizens apartment complex in the community.

On hand for the cornerstone laying were a number of dignitaries including chairman of the Staanworth Nonprofit Housing Corporation, Ed Pergolas, members of the board of directors, representatives of the three townships which back the corporation, and representatives of the three townships which back the corporation, and representatives of the two senior levels of government who have provided the major share of the funding for the complex. In attendance as well were representatives of the contracting and building design company.

Following the formalities at the building site,

Scott will not attend debate

The debate between the candidates in the federal election will be lacking an important element. A spokesman for Bill Scott has announced that the incumbent Progressive Conservative candidate will not be able to attend the November 2 debate, co-sponsored by the Times and the Haliburton County Echo.

PC campaign manager Dick Gorwill told The Times, Mr. Scott will be unavailable the evening of the debate as he has accepted other campaign engagements for the same time in Mariposa.

Liberal candidate Bruce Glass, NDP hopeful Cathy Vainio and The Party for the Commonwealth of Canada candidate Archie Dobbins have confirmed they will be in attendance for the evening.

The debate will be held at the Dysart Community Centre, November 2, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Economy under scrutiny

Nearly 50 county residents took a closer look at the local economy last Wednesday and attempted to determine the best direction for future development. The occasion was the economic workshop, sponsored by the Haliburton County Development Corporation at Hart Lodge.

The all-day session, led the participants through a series of workshops in which they were asked to evaluate certain sectors of the local economy and offer some opinions on the direction these areas might take by the turn of the century. The purpose of the exercise, according to workshop leader, University of Waterloo Professor Chris Bryant, was not so much to come up with definitive answers but rather to demonstrate the processes necessary in developing and implementing an economic development plan for the county.

Vainio for N.D.P.

Free trade and the environment are seen as the two major issues in the upcoming federal election, according to candidate for the New Democratic Party, Cathy Vainio. The Emily Township resident won the party's nod, unopposed, at a meeting held October 17 in Lindsay.

Cathy Vainio is a former elementary school teacher who is currently employed with the Children's Aid Society, Lindsay office, as a family service worker. The candidate says the issue of free trade is likely to dominate the election. She points out the New Democratic Party is opposed to the deal as formulated by Brian Mulroney and the Progressive Conservatives. She says the Canadian public have been kept in the dark regarding the true nature of the agreement, especially the implications for social and cultural programs.

"The public hasn't had enough time to digest the agreement," she commented. "The recent television debates (on The Journal) were of some value, but the details of the agreement are still not well known."

Vainio said the NDP favours expanding trade, but not in the way the Mulroney government has chosen to do it. She said the party would prefer multi-lateral trade agree-

Dobbins for Commonwealth

A fourth candidate has thrown his hat in the ring for the November 24 federal election in the Victoria - Haliburton riding. Archie Dobbins, representing the Party for the Commonwealth of Canada registered last week with the riding's returning officer.

According to the Haliburton resident, the Commonwealth Party is approximately four and a half years old and as of Saturday, had fielded 51 candidates for the federal election. The national leader of the party is Gilles Gervais of Montreal.

Dobbins said the party was formed because of what was perceived to be a lack of direction by the present national parties. He said the country has no national goals and the three main parties in Canada are not likely to set any.

Chief among the party's platform planks is the encouragement of technology, such as computers and in other areas. Dobbins claims that a dollar invested in new technology will return $17 to the economy. He bases his assessment on the returns received from the funds invested in the space program in the United States. These spin-off effects will boost the entire economy, he said.

It was the best kept secret of the century.

Saturday, October 15, Stanhope Fire Chief Bob Nangle and Fire Captain Jim Moore were asked if they would check out a report of arson at Hall's Lake Dump. They were told no fire had actually been set, but suspected arsonists were being held for interview - so off they went and when they arrived at the dump instead of the arsonists they found a group of 45 well-wishers holding signs that read "Happy Birthday".

Thus began the celebration for the two who were definitely surprised. The party moved to the Nangle home where celebrants of all ages danced and laughed the night away. Our sources report that the looks on the birthday boys' faces was a joy to behold.

Club 35 euchre winners for this week were: door prize - Eleanor Kleinschmidt, most lone hands - Mabel Trodd, high lady - Helen Windsor, high man - Ken Wallace and others - Edith Russell, Jack Gregory and Garth Windsor.

Winners at St. Paul's euchre party this week were: high lady - Joyce Hewitt, low lady - Florence Schlosser, high man - Ralph Schad, low man - Jack Weekes and most lone hands - Eleanor Pye.

These are the winners from Highlands Jewellery & China - 1st. Ladies Citizen Watch, Nancy Stinson of Haliburton and 2nd - men's Bulova Quartz Watch - Clem Cassiday of Sarnia.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Lewis Robert, Hattie Ackley, John Dones (Hall's Lake), Wm. Maughan and Mary O'Toole, whose funerals were since last week.

Teressa and Al Clement and boys of Toronto spent the weekend with her parents, Pearl and Arnold Cowen.

The first of this season's Euchres at Lochlin Centre had as winners for lone hands - Bessie Burk, and Ruth Kellett, Isa Hillyer, Don Sinclair and Chris Hill; this was on October 18 and the next games there will be November 2.

Several new arrivals are a baby boy for Rev. and Mrs. E. Moll and also a baby boy for Tammy and Sam Dufty of Edmonton.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Roberts (nee Liana Whitfield) who were married October 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cowen, Marlene and Nicole Lavallo of Ottawa were weekend guests and visited relatives in our area.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: What is a monster's favourite holiday?

A: April Ghoul's Day.

Q: What law do all ghouls follow?

A: The law of Grave-ity.

Q: How does a monster predict the future?

24 positions filled by acclamation

With last Monday being the final deadline for municipal election candidates to file their nomination papers, and Tuesday being the final day for last minute withdrawals, the slate for candidates for the November 14 election has been set. Prior to the election day, two advance polls will be held for the convenience of those voters who may be away November 14. The advance polling dates are November 5 and 10. The location of the polls can be obtained by calling the municipal office in which the voter is registered.

The following is a listing of the candidates and acclaimed office holders in the ten municipalities in Haliburton County and the three neighbouring municipalities in Victoria County. Candidates acclaimed to office are indicated by bold face type; (I) indicates incumbents. The number under the name of the municipality indicates the number of eligible voters in that jurisdiction.

Economic planning

The Economic Development Workshop, sponsored by the Haliburton County Development Corporation last Wednesday, provided an excellent opportunity for the review of where the Highlands now stand and where, at least some of its residents, would like to see it headed. It was a stimulating forum which gave participants an opportunity to actively weigh the options open to the county for future growth.

If nothing else, those on hand learned that the future is going to happen, whether we prepare for it or not. The meeting was told it is those economic regions which face the future with a plan which are likely to profit most.

Of particular interest right now, because of the pending November 14 municipal elections, was the repeated reference made by the participants to the need for a county-wide plan for the development of the economy of the area. On more than several occasions, the lack of an Official Plan encompassing the entire county was noted as one element standing in the way of progress and economic growth. It was noted that the county represents a single economic unit. Smaller elements, such as individual municipalities, as just too small and/or dependent on neighbouring municipalities, to effect a major redirection of their economy. Only through co-operative action which includes, and takes into consideration, all sectors of the county, can any development plan hope to be effective.

Several other examples of county-wide co-operation were cited as providing benefits for the area as a whole. On the positive side, the extensive road network, for which the county administration must take a large share of the credit, was cited as one example of this co-operative spirit at work. Similarly, a county-wide approach to such factors as waste disposal, water levels and industrial growth would also enhance the economic potential of the Highlands.

There were many other factors under scrutiny Wednesday at the workshop, and we acknowledge there are a multitude of facets to long-term economic planning, but if the assessment of the individuals and the experts in attendance is anything to go by, the county needs an integrated plan for economic development. (And, as the seminar leader Professor Chris Bryant pointed out, "A plan without action is no plan at all.")

As county residents select their municipal representatives for the next three years, it would be valuable to keep in mind that economic growth, of the kind the community wants, will only come about as a result of careful, county-wide planning. Those representatives who express a vision larger than their own municipality should be encouraged and supported by the electorate.

Music or sex?

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

"If I had to choose between music and sex, I would pause a long time."

Donald Barthelme

Well, I daresay the U.S. novelist somewhat overstates the case for most of us, but maybe not. Perhaps music really is that important to most people. I only know that it's not for me.

I don't know who left out what in the fetal fondue my mom and dad whipped up - all I know is I came out of it with a couple of conspicuous gaps in my chromosomal repertoire - viz: the genes responsible for manufacturing head hair and music appreciation.

Which is not to say that I don't like music - I do. Everything from Fats Waller to Gustav Mahler; from Jascha Heifetz to Harmonica Jake. I like it fine. I just don't love it, is all. Other folks are more sensitive. I have a friend who can't hear more than a dozen bars of Beethoven without crying. The Syrian general Nicator fainted at the sound of a flute.

I once demonstrated all the symptoms of sea sickness after listening to an accordion band at a polka party, but I don't think that counts.

I can identify with what the English writer George Eliot had to say on the subject. "Music" wrote Eliot, "sweeps me like a messenger carrying a message that is not for me".

It was even harder for Eliot, of course. She lived in the 19th century - which means she went through her entire life without once hearing a Barry Manilow ballad.

Maybe that's our problem. Maybe we've rotted out our musical molars on a diet of melodic junk food - too much Manilow and Madonna, an overdose of doo wops from Little Martha And The VibeTones.

Forest destruction limits habitat for birds

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

Basking in the warmth of the last day of September, I sat by a small marshy pond listening to birds giving the subdued chips and peeps of autumn. Once again pushed by some message inaudible to humans, they were on their way south. Not the chickadees hanging like little acrobats above my head, but most of the gang filling the bushes and trees.

White-crowned Sparrows immaculate in dove-grey vests popped out from the tangle of red-osier dogwood, and Hummingbirds ravaged the orange blossoms of the jewelweed. Lurking within the tangle, one hard-to-identify little brown bird gave itself away by the incessant up and down twitching of its tail. A Palm Warbler. Another darker bird identified itself when it flashed a yellow rump and side patches as it flitted. This was the most common of late-migrating warblers, the Yellow-rumped.

Across the way a Great Blue Heron landed silently on a log, hunched its long neck down into its shoulders and cast a suspicious yellow eye about. On another log a line of painted turtles soaked up sun. The pond was bathed in a light as smooth and golden as liquid honey. Around its margin yellow bur-marigolds rioted. Soon no passerby would escape without carrying one of its two-pronged seeds. Here it was possible to forget the nearby city, and also the fact that most of these tiny creatures were on their way south to an uncertain future.

Recently Dr. A. W. Diamond of the Canadian Wildlife Service reported on the vulnerability of birds which breed in Canada and migrate to Latin American forests for the winter. According to estimates of the rate of deforestation based upon statistics compiled by the Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations, "more than half of the species of birds which breed in Canadian forests and migrate to the tropics in winter are likely to lose more than 25% of their winter habitat by the year 2000; and of these, 11 species are expected to lose 50% or more of their winter habitat." Some of the birds I'd been watching would be among those affected. The Ruby-throated Hummingbird is expected to lose more than 50% of its winter habitat, the Yellow-throated Warbler more than 40%.

Recent research has determined that birds are just as loyal to wintering sites as they are to summer nesting locations. What happens to a migrant that returns to the tropics and finds the habitat surrounding its former territory has been changed? What is the chance that the bird will find a new territory? No one yet knows the answers. The attempt to find answers is a race against the uncontrolled exploitation of tropical ecosystems.

Tales of forest destruction in the tropics are familiar. Ironically we know less about the destruction of forests in our own backyard. What effect are logging practices in our own northern forests having on nesting habitat in Ontario? According to the Atlas of Breeding Birds of Ontario, since World War II about 50% of the productive boreal forest, which stretches north to the Hudson Bay Lowland Forest on a line from Ottawa to Kenora, has been cut. Although artificial regeneration rates are slowly improving, much of the cut over land is left to natural regeneration. The result is early succession forest dominated by birches and poplars with a high proportion of balsam fir. There has been a significant reduction in mature coniferous forests.

While this more open habitat has benefitted species like the Chestnut-sided and Mourning Warblers and White-throated Sparrows, other species which require dense tangle and mature

Music as a crowd repellent

Come to think of it, why are we subjected to such cruddy music so much of the time? Why is the hit parade constantly clogged with vapid tunes warbled by tiny talents like Tiffany, for crying out loud? Who ever voted for the syrupy treacle of Muzak? Wouldn't it be great to walk into a mall or an elevator and hear Ella Fitzgerald or Moe Koffman or Liona Boyd coming over the public address system?

But perhaps that's the whole point of gonadless music. Maybe it's a kind of aural narcotic to keep the workers drowsy and the shoppers grazing peacefully. Music as a crowd control agent? Why not? Officials of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto have a problem with teenage hooligans who congregate in the midway, drawn like moths to the loud rock music that's played there. Too often the louts work themselves into a frenzy and go on a rampage, trashing stalls and starting fights.

One CNE official has proposed a sure-fire, hassle-free way of making the rockers disperse. "Play Country and Western music over the public address system" he says. "It's the only music they really hate."

Interesting idea - music as crowd repellent. If that works, maybe we would twig to the notion of using music as a crowd attractant, a psychic balm to bring people together and make them feel good - which, if I'm not mistaken, is the whole point of music.

They're already doing it in other parts of the world. In the subways of New York and Boston, passengers often come upon the incongruous sight of a string quartet or woodwind ensemble playing classical music on the platform. It's a service provided by the Transit Authorities in an attempt to soothe the frayed nerves of commuters.

How does the travelling public like it? "Beautiful" said one damp-eyed straphanger who had stopped to listen to a brass quintet deep in the bowels of Grand Central Station. "If they had a little more music, you'd feel more comfortable down here. People wouldn't be so mean."

Sounds to me like an idea that's too good to leave in the subways. Bring it out of the American underground, I say.

And since we're obviously not going to be allowed to vote on Free Trade, let's at least make sure that the idea of Good Music in the Streets is high on our list of imports.

Strolling down streets 200 years old

Recently, a group of 44 Minden area residents travelled to West Germany for a two week visit, which included a three day stay in Minden, Germany. The trip was promoted by the Minden Times and organized through Town and Country Travel Consultants. Times Publisher Jack Brezina was part of the group which visited this community's sister city in Germany. He prepared this report on the group's second day in the community.

Minden, Germany is a city of approximately 80,000 inhabitants. It is situated on the Weser River about 100 miles from the North Sea Coast, about 30 miles west of Hanover. The city is close to the edge of the coastal plain. To the north the land slopes gently down toward the sea, while south of Minden, the first of a number of ridges cutting across the continent, makes itself prominently known.

It was up over this ridge the group headed as we set off on our second day of touring. Leaving the city of Minden behind, the bus quickly climbed into a forest terrain that evoked memories of the rolling hills of the Highlands. Trees crowded close to the Highway and hiking trail markers could be seen from the bus windows heading off into the "wilderness" of central Europe. Occasionally a wordless international symbol could be seen at the side of the road, and we felt even closer to home, knowing that German drivers in this part of the country had to be cautious about the sudden appearance of deer.

In a short while the bus descended off the ridge and we once again emerged into an area of little villages and intensive farming. The hills were steeper here, but still suitable for many types of agriculture. Again the farms appeared to be prosperous and well-managed, with neatly tilled fields and ample livestock.

Our first stop was in the village of Furstenberg, home of a porcelain factory. Not just your average china factory, this production facility was established in 1774 in a castle, belonging at the time, to the Duke of Brunswick. The production of porcelain has since moved to a modern factory adjacent to the castle, but the 200 year old building is still in use as a museum and display area for the porcelain products.

Ten years ago, a portion of the castle was destroyed by fire. A major reconstruction has since taken place and while the exterior retains the look of two centuries ago, portions of the interior resemble a modern museum. The exception to this is the wooden staircase which circles up from the central entranceway. Resting on thick beams, the wooden treads bear the well-worn marks of years of feet making their way up and down the stairs.

Following the visit to the museum, a number of travellers stopped in a nearby shop featuring the porcelain produced at the factory.

The weather during our stay in the Minden area was similar to that experienced in the Highlands, although not as cool. Days would include a mixture of brilliant sunshine, which was usually quickly covered over by grey clouds and a smattering of rain. The group was fortunate in that the rain seldom interfered with our responsibilities as tourists. When the showers came, we were either travelling or inside a building.

As we travelled through the country-side, our hosts pointed out the colourful display of autumn leaves. While the leaves of the trees in the area do turn a bright yellow, there are very few trees with the brilliant reds and orange hues we had left behind in the Highlands.

The next stop for the group was at the small village of Schwalenberg. Founded in 1230, the village was under the control of a count, who resided in a manor house overlooking the town. The attraction today in the village is the expertly restored beam houses which dominate the core area. Adding to the rustic feel of the village are the cobbled streets.

Not only have the homes and businesses been restored to the style of earlier days, many of the facades carry colourful designs and decorations. Often, over the main doorway, the builder, or original owner, inscribed his name and date of construction. The notations also carried blessings on the dwelling and those who enter. It was fascinating to slowly walk through the streets of Schwalenberg and imagine what it must have been like for the inhabitants who walked the same streets, 200 or 300 years ago.

Interestingly, we arrived in the community shortly after 12 noon. In many parts of Europe, the two hour noon closing is still observed. As we strolled the streets of this small community, virtually every shop was closed and the streets all but deserted as the residents enjoyed a midday 'siesta'.

Lunch awaited the travellers in the next village set high on a hill overlooking the Weser river valley. In the Village of Blomberg, the castle which was once home for the count who ruled this small part of Germany, has been converted to a hotel and restaurant. The dining room featured a high vaulted stone ceiling with peaked, leaded windows overlooking the parapets and valley below.

Lunch was a formal affair with a host of waiters and minions gliding through the hall serving each course with an elegance and flair as if the count himself were at each table. The entree was venison. It had a mild taste compared to Canadian deer, the meat being more tender and moist.

Our next stop was to have been Hamelin, home of the famous Pied Piper. Unfortunately, that smattering of rain mentioned earlier turned into a heavy downpour and so the group wound its way back to our hotel in Minden for an extra hour's rest before dinner.

Our guide for the day had been Mr. H-J Wulf, the manager of the Minden City Tourist Bureau. A charming gentleman with an excellent command of English, Mr. Wulf proved to be a most gracious and informative guide and host for our group from Minden, Ontario.

That evening the group was on the fly again. This time we were the guests of the Mindener Tageblatt, the main newspaper serving the city of Minden and area. Under the guidance of editor Wilfried Drexhage the group was taken on a tour of the printing plant and then travelled downtown to observe the editorial offices where the final touches were being placed on the next day's issue.

While at the printing plant, a photographer for the newspaper took the group's picture next to one of the large presses. By the time we arrived at the editorial office downtown, the photo had been developed, printed and prepared for insertion in the next edition of the newspaper. That photo appears with this story.

The tour of the newspaper completed, the management treated the group to an evening buffet and friendly company in the staff room.

The Mindener Tageblatt will be organizing the next group visit to Minden, Ontario. Plans for the tour, which will arrive here next fall, were just about to be announced in the newspaper. We look forward to their visit in 1989.

Next week, the final day in Minden, Germany, a visit to the city and a welcome by the Lord Mayor.

Members of the Minden, Ontario tour group visited the Mindener Tageblatt printing plant. The group was welcomed by chief editor Wilfried Drexhage, third from the left, front row.

Forest habitat significantly reduced by harvest

trees have seen their habitat significantly reduced by forest harvesting activities. Some of the species affected are Downy and Hairy Woodpeckers, Winter Wren, Cape May Warbler, Boreal Chickadee, Swainson's Thrush, Golden-crowned Kinglet, Blackburnian and Black-throated Green Warblers.

Inventories of forested land have traditionally dealt with only two things: accessibility and the value of standing timber. Other environmental functions of the forest, such as its provision of wildlife habitat for species other than traditional game species, have largely been ignored. Right now in Thunder Bay there are Environmental Assessment Board hearings in progress in which the Ministry of Natural Resources is having to defend its recipe for the management of forests on Crown land. Significantly the title of the document they are defending is the Class Environmental Assessment for Timber Management on Crown Lands in Ontario, not forest management.

The Federation of Ontario Naturalists is present at the hearings as part of a coalition of environmental groups called Forests for Tomorrow which hopes to challenge the view of forests as nothing but so much standing timber. If the environmental groups are successful, the birds around the pond may face less devastating changes at one end of their migration.

Complex gets cornerstone

where former Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight was among those to add mortar to the cornerstone, the group retired to the nearby Community Centre for refreshments and formal remarks.

Victoria Haliburton MPP John Eakins was unable to attend the gathering. He was represented by his legislative assistant Dave Selbie.

Representing the Canadian Mortgage and Housing Corporation, through which the federal funding was channelled, was Pauline Filion of the Peterborough office of CMHC. She noted that the federal government provided $2,430,000 for the construction of the apartment complex and would subsidize the annual upkeep of the building by an estimated $133,000 annually to help keep the rents within manageable levels.

Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis and Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc

Nesbitt both had words of praise for the new structure. Reeve Nesbitt pointed out that the building under construction provided proof that three townships can work together on a project. The other township involved in the building was Lutterworth.

Vas Kuchar, the building designer, noted that this was the second senior citizens apartment complex he had designed for the Staunworth Corporation. He commented that he was privileged to be asked to serve a second time and is looking forward to returning to work on another similar structure.

Chairman of the board of directors, Ed Pergolas, reiterated the co-operative nature of the project between the three townships and the three levels of government. He told the gathering that in the seven years the board has been in operation, there has been only one change in membership. He said this is indicative of the co-operative spirit on the board and among the townships.

The chairman also acknowledged the donation of Laverne Thoams of Lons Memorials, who provided the cornerstone for the building.

Also in attendance at the gathering was Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott, residents of the nearby Staunworth Court and Sunrise Apartments and citizens from the three townships.

When completed, the building will contain 20 one bedroom and 12 two bedroom apartments. The complex has been constructed into the side of the hill facing south onto Parkside Crescent, with access from Prentice Street at the rear.

within NATO to protect what they perceive to be an expansionist threat from the Soviet Union. The candidate notes that the USSR Constitution calls for Communism to dominate the world and he believes that is the aim behind the leadership in Moscow. He said the current easing of tensions between east and west is just a prelude to when the Communists intend to advance their cause throughout the world. "Ottawa is oblivious to the situation," Dobbins comments, quoting United States President Lincoln, he says, "The price of freedom is eternal vigilance."

The candidate also believes Canada should encourage the United States in its pursuit of the Strategic Defense Initiative, known as Star Wars. He said this would be the best way to protect our country from surprise attack, using space based lasers, and rid the world of the threat of nuclear confrontation.

The Commonwealth party is opposed to free trade. He said the Canadian government should get its own economic house in order before entering into an agreement with the U.S. He also predicted the agreement would open the U.S. Canada border to infiltration by Soviet KGB agents and terrorists from Iran, as well as the drug trade.

Dobbins admits that it is unlikely that he will succeed in getting elected in the November 24 election, but he wants to bring these important national and international issues to the attention of the electorate. "I want the protest vote," he said, "votes from people who know the policies of the other three parties are too socialistic. We need a national direction," he concluded.

Archie Dobbins is formerly from the east coast of Canada and moved to Haliburton from Mississauga four and a half years ago. He is 36 years of age, is married and has three children. He operates Epsilon Satellite T.V.

Vainio questions free trade

ments, or sector trading agreements, such as the Canada - United States auto pact. She claims that the free trade agreement, Canada is simply, "giving everything away", including our natural resources and our "brains". She says once the agreement is implemented, research and development will move south of the border, taking with it many of the innovative Canadians involved in industry now.

Turning to the environment, the NDP candidate notes that the meetings between Prime Minister Brian Mulroney and U.S. President Ronald Reagan have accomplished very little. "Our forests are continuing to die," she said, "we can't continue to live with this situation." She pointed out that both countries have the regulatory agencies to enforce controls which would improve the environment, but that the political will to get something done is lacking in both countries.

Vainio is also concerned with the disposal of toxic wastes. She says the public has a right to know where the dumps are located and what is going into them so appropriate measures can be taken to protect the public.

One local issue which she feels is being ignored by the federal government is the growing housing shortage in the Victoria County area. She noted that middle and low income families are finding it more difficult all the time to obtain suitable housing. She says the Toronto housing crisis, which is evolving into a food crisis, is starting to occur in the southern part of the riding. Citing her experiences as a CSA worker, she says she is seeing more and more families turning to the agency, among others, for assistance with such basics as food and shelter. "There are some of our citizens who just don't have it so good," she said.

Other matters on the candidate's agenda for the upcoming election campaign are the need for tax reform and the need for greater federal support for education, job retraining and universities.

The NDP candidate is a graduate of Laurentian University in Sudbury and holds three degrees from the University of Toronto including political science, social work and a doctorate in education. She is married with four adult sons.

Five steps to creating economic plan

Bryant told the meeting that an integrated plan for economic development was important for the area and that any such plan should encompass the county. He said the county was an economic unit and decisions about future development should be based on the community as a whole.

The workshop leader identified five steps to be taken in setting an economic plan in motion:

- set goals or visions for the area. Identify where the economy should be, for example, in ten years time.

- understand the resources at hand. Local resources are easier to incorporate into a local vision and are generally more sympathetic to the aims of the local vision and are generally more sympathetic to the aims of the local economy than resources from outside the area.

- analyze the information at hand. If the first point is a dream of the future, careful thought and analysis is needed to bring the harsh light of reality to bear on the details at hand.

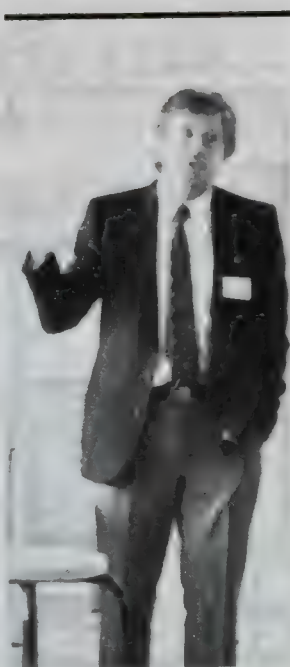

- develop and implement a plan of action. An economic plan without any action is no plan at all.

- be prepared to change and react to new conditions. No plan should be considered set in stone, but rather a set of guidelines pointing to the future.

Using these points, the participants in the workshop were asked to consider a number of questions regarding the future of Haliburton County. Working in small groups, the participants were asked to make some predictions about the growth of the county and to identify the area's strengths and weaknesses.

Bryant predicted that because of the diversity of the people attending, a wide variance in expectations would emerge from the various discussion groups. His prediction was borne out when, for example, the three year population predictions (based on a permanent population now of 12,000) varied from a low of 13,000 to a high of 21,000. The workshop leader noted the population figures are crucial in analyzing the future prospects for the county. He suggested that careful thought must be given to just how many people planners can expect to live in the county.

For example, Bryant

Professor Chris Bryant, from the University of Waterloo, addresses the economic planning workshop Wednesday at Hart Lodge.

noted that if predictions call for a large increase in population, that increase would likely come from immigration of individuals. This would result in new values being introduced into the county, new pressures being placed on social services and the agencies which provide those services, in most cases the municipalities. He cautioned that before making any prediction of large in-migration increases in population, an effort must be made to identify where these people will be coming from and what they will be expecting when they settle here. For example, he asked the group, "would most of the migrants be retirees, or families with small children?" He pointed out that any economic plan must consider how this anticipated growth will be assimilated into the local economic fabric.

The workshop leader went on to point out that in setting an economic plan, careful evaluation of opportunities must be taken for maximum benefit. For example, he said tourism may be seen as a potential growth area for the local economy, however unless all factors are in place to encourage that growth, it just won't take place. He pointed out that most items are already here, the natural environment, the infrastructure to serve the hospitality industry and a labour force. But he pointed out that tourism is a service industry that relies heavily on the willingness of individuals, many of whom may not realize the connection between the tourist and their own economic benefit, to make a stranger feel welcome in their community. He pointed out how one factor, such as this, can have a major impact on the best laid economic planning.

Bryant challenged the participants to analyze the local needs and determine which are being met from outside the area and attempt to fill those needs locally, put local resources to work, and be aware of local trends and how they might affect the economic direction of the area.

The workshop leader said there is a need for a strong regional presence to provide the framework for economic growth in the county. He said there must be, in a rural area such as the Highlands, a body to set over-all policy and direction, to ensure economic growth occurs in a way which is most compatible with local desires and wishes.

Andy Campbell, manager of the Haliburton County Development Corporation and co-ordinator of the workshop, said he was very pleased with the interest generated by the forum. He said the participation showed that people were interested in the future of the local economy. He added, however, if the suggestions raised at the workshop were to succeed, follow-up meetings and greater, county-wide participation will be needed. He said the Development Corporation would be encouraging meetings within various sector groups and on a county-wide basis to further define the future of the area's economy.

Meet the candidates - Anson, Hindon & Minden

THE TIMES is pleased to provide this space to candidates in the upcoming municipal election. The following profiles and platform positions have been written by the candidates.

Reeve

Many thanks to this publication for the opportunity of expressing some of my views and opinions in regard to my seeking the office of Reeve for Anson, Hindon and Minden.

I have no quarrel with anyone, seek no personal gratification, and feel I can work with the staff and all the successful councillors. However, it is my belief that the electorate deserve a choice for all offices of council at every election; this prevents complacency.

Any position that I have been called upon to do, I approach by looking at an overview of the whole scenario. Being a deep-thinking optimist, it is important to me to assess all situations that can develop, and collectively set goals and objectives to achieve a degree of success. Experience has taught me that many businesses and councils get bogged down and overwhelmed, causing many confrontations with staff and rate-payers, using band-aid measures because no clear planning with objectives was done.

The following are some of my observations and concerns, abbreviated due to space allotment in the paper.

The 1983 - 86 council passed a planning document, By-Law 86-26, which to date has not been enacted into law, creating confusion and a vacuum for the present council, committees, staff, and the public for the past three years. This has resulted in the loss of key core staff leaving in frustration. It is my opinion this problem should have been resolved by now.

Re-cycling waste and waste management needs to be addressed.

The onus for affordable housing must start at the municipal level.

All attempts to keep the Minden Hospital open and expanding to be needs of all the South Haliburton County residents should be a priority of council.

A second bridge over the Gull River is needed for the safety and protection of the residents in the west and north quadrants of Minden, should some unforeseen tragedy close off the Main Street bridge.

I feel an Industrial Commission should be set up to advise council of any future developments and job opportunities available.

The B.I.A. area should be expanded to keep the downtown core viable.

I believe that, in the very near future, the County Council will be expanded and given more powers to administer county-wide services such as public works, planning and development, health and welfare, and environmental concerns. The local council will have to address this issue carefully.

There are many more challenges facing the new council. However, by collectively setting goals and objectives at the onset of the next term, the staff and council should have direction in all areas of the Township's growing needs.

If you, the electorate, feel I have the qualifications to serve as your next Reeve, the Lord be willing, I thank you in advance for your support.

For those of you who don't know me, I humbly submit a brief resume.

My wife Gloria and I have been married for 39 years. We were blessed with eight children, and presently have seventeen grandchildren. We had to get our formal education and jobs mostly in the Toronto area. Finally we took our chances and settled in Muskoka for twenty-one years, and for the past three years have been semi-retired making our home and head office in Minden. I have had a very diversified professional and business career, constantly seeking knowledge and challenges to grow. I am the senior partner in the Westside Jug City Convenience Store chain.

I was elected to serve on the Gravenhurst Council for two terms, and also served one term as councillor on the District of Muskoka Council. During my tenure, I served on all committees of council ... public works, administration and finance, planning and development, and health and welfare.

After moving to Minden, the clerk asked me to serve on Anson, Hindon and Minden's Planning Advisory Board, Parks and Recreation Committee, and since this past January I have chaired the newly created Parks Board.

As a Rotarian, I am dedicated to serve our community. As a person, I am open and easy to talk to, and not afraid to make decisions.

My whole family is very grateful to this community, and feel an obligation to give back of our time, talents and experience if called upon. If it be the will of the electorate, I will work hard to lead the next council to the best of my ability for the betterment of all our residents.

Sinclair Nesbitt
Reeve

If elected, I will make every effort to accomplish the goals that I feel are a necessity for this Community's growth.

At the last election, my major concern was getting the Bobcaygeon Road re-built, and all other roads improved, and we seem to have accomplished that.

I would hope to start at the Shell station (Highway 35) and re-build the road through town, out to the Brown Owl on Highway 35 - with a road similar to the newly improved Bobcaygeon Road. With the Co-operation of the Parks Department and Horticultural Society, to beautify the river banks, the town could be a scenic route to attract the travelling public to downtown Minden.

At the same time we could get grants to do the river banks down the river from the bridge. We should be able to stand on the bridge and see a clean beautiful river running through town.

I would hope to get enough money to finish the Bobcaygeon Road at least as far as the Scotch Line, and also to rebuild the road from there to Brady Lake at a lower standard, as there is less traffic.

The side streets in town, especially Mackayville, should be re-built and hard topped. I have been able to get the Horseshoe Lake Road taken over by the County, which will leave extra money for other roads. The road from the Bethel Church to the Blairhampton Golf Course has been re-built and will be hard topped in 1989.

We must also find a way to improve the Reynold's Road at the upper end of Horseshoe Lake.

The first mile of road is hard to deal with as it is so narrow, with the lake on one side and cottages on the other, but it has a lot of traffic and must be hard topped.

The MacArthur Road from Highway 35 through Blairhampton to Highway 121 will eventually be taken over by the County and will give us extra money to spend on the roads in Blairhampton.

As money becomes available the road from Highway 121 into Blairhampton past the north end of Soyers Lake will be improved. If you have travelled the roads in Anson, Hindon and Minden in the last year you will see a major improvement.

The flood plain map is finally completed, and will be dealt with shortly. This will enable us to proceed and enact the new zoning bylaw. One of the reasons it has taken so long, is that the council felt the high water line far exceeded the outline of the water overflowing the riverbanks. Now that has been corrected, we can proceed with the new bylaw.

I would hope that within the next 3 years we will be able to commence the building of our new hospital. There has been an ad-hoc committee formed and they will be having a study done to show the need for a hospital. All of the Minden Service Clubs are interested and waiting for the study results, and fund raising will begin.

I have enjoyed my time on County Council (15 years) and Warden in 1970 and also served on the following Committees: Chairman of County Roads, Property Committee, Finance Committee, Management Committee (Social Services), Personnel Committee, Environment Committee and Ad-Hoc Committee for the Railway.

Berry acclaimed to Deputy post

Bern Berry
Deputy-Reeve

As I have been acclaimed Deputy Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden for the next three years, I thank you and look forward to your continued support. The next three years will be challenging ones as our area continues to grow and prosper. I will endeavour to give the same dedicated service enhanced by the knowledge and experience I have gained in the last three years serving on our Municipal and County Councils.

I wish to encourage residents of Anson, Hindon and Minden to get involved in your community by volunteering for one of the various Council support committees, by joining a service club, or by helping with one of the many social committees. To those who have served in the past, or are serving now, thank you; your contribution is invaluable. The Municipality wouldn't function as well without you. Public service is not without its frustrations, but the self-satisfaction is gratifying.

This election year, our municipality has approximately 6,000 eligible voters. If the normal pattern is followed, we will have less than 2,000 residents exercising their right to vote. Get to know your candidates! Make your choice objectively, but above all VOTE.

Problems! Concerns! Ideas! Let's discuss it! Call 286-2925.

Meet the candidates - Anson, Hindon & Minden Councillor - three to be elected

Allin Cooper
Council

The urgent need for long-range waste management, our increasing water problems and the need for an augmented tax base through industrial and commercial growth have brought Minden businessman Allin Cooper back into the municipal fray after an absence of some 18 years.

A former member of Minden council (1969 - 70), Mr. Cooper is the proprietor of Minden Rental, Woodcutter Supply and HABACO Batteries.

Born in Toronto, Mr. Cooper served as a wireless Airgunner with the RCAF in World War II. Following his war service he was employed for some 20 years with Ontario Hydro as a station operator, then five years as a relief operator at Orillia Light and Power's Swift Rapids and Minden generating stations. He has operated his own successful service companies since 1969, currently employing six persons.

A member of the Royal Canadian Legion since 1945, Mr. Cooper twice served as President of Branch 129 Haliburton, and as a member of the Branch Executive Committee for some 15 years.

According to Mr. Cooper, the problem of waste disposal with its potential environment hazards will soon reach a crisis stage without the immediate development of a long-range waste management program.

"If we are to preserve the glorious environment of our Haliburton Highlands for not only ourselves but future generations as well, adequate waste management is a must," Mr. Cooper explained. He went on to say that our increasing water problems are also environment-threatening and must be urgently addressed.

"Whether we're talking about a relentlessly dropping water table or a proposed flood table plan dangerously at odds with our zoning by-law, we must ensure that our quality of life is protected," he said.

Pointing out that an increased tax base is, "the lifeblood of any municipality," Mr. Cooper explained that with the growing demand for municipal dollars each year to meet a municipality's burgeoning services, it must look to industrial and commercial growth rather than increased taxes.

A widower, with a grown family (a son and a daughter), Mr. Cooper believes his wealth of hands-on and business management experience admirably suit him for the position of councillor and, as he points out, "I have the time available to do the job properly."

Scott Gartshore
Council

Scott Gartshore is a young working-class man who believes it is time the working class citizens also had a say in what happens in the community.

I would be proud to serve on council, attacking such issues as creating more new and permanent jobs in the area so that all our younger people don't have to leave to find work. I would also like to see a respectable level of water left in our lakes for the enjoyment of our summer and permanent residents alike.

I don't believe that recycling is the final solution for our garbage dump, but it is a good start, while we work on a more permanent answer. I also believe the taxpayers in the outlying areas deserve more attention for their tax dollars.

And, - in closing, I would just like to say that you the people of our township know, as I do, that one man can't fix all the problems and issues facing council. But, I can promise that if elected, I won't be a yes-man for the person sitting at the head of the council table, whomever that may be.

Verne Graham
Council

Verne Graham has completed his first three year term on council and will be running again for a position on council.

Graham has served on many committees: roads, street light, parks, Agnes Jamieson Gallery, Minden Museum, Planning Advisory. For the whole three years he has been on both the budget and finance committees.

Great progress has been made in all sections of the municipality over the last three years. The desire to see this progress continue helped him make the decision to run for re-election.

Significant improvements have been made to road conditions. The Bobcaygeon Road improvement was long over due. Sidewalks have been improved and street lights will be improved in the very near future.

Building within the three townships is at an alltime high level. The year end will see the value of building permits exceed eleven million dollars. The impact of this type of growth benefits every person within the municipality.

There is no question garbage disposal is a concern. Recycling is part of the answer, however, to be feasible, it must be with the full co-operation of the whole County.

Council requested that the current study on the Minden Hospital be conducted. A new facility will be required in the near future. The study should tell us the size and type of treatment it will provide. Statistics currently show that emergency services should receive a high priority.

Anson, Hindon and Minden is responsible for all Ambulance services within Haliburton County. Excellent service for the county is therefore assured. The dispatch of the ambulance services is from a central dispatch system located in Lindsay. It is this type of service that must be co-ordinated for all the fire departments within the county.

Verne and his family live on a farm in Minden that was operated by his father and grandfather. All of Verne's great-grandparents were pioneers of Haliburton County. The names of Graham, Mortimer, Hobdan and Pritchard appear in the early records of the townships of Anson, Minden, Stanhope and Lutterworth.

The past three years on council was Graham's first experience with municipal government. However, he has a strong background in business. He started his career with The Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. After eight years in banking he transferred to accounting with private business for ten years. Prior to moving back to Minden he spent 18 years with the Federal Government in the field of real estate appraisal and was a member of the Appraisal Institute of Canada and the Ontario Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers. The ten years he taught real estate and finance with the government employees' training school.

M.J. (Mike)
Maher
Council

I have been a resident of Minden for 23 years, coming here after spending 11 years in the R.C.A.F. I retired from the Ontario Provincial Police on the first of April, 1988. I have no experience in municipal government but while employed as a General Duties Officer with the OPP I had extensive contacts with all the municipalities of Haliburton County. For approximately five years I was the police liaison officer with the Townships of Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone at Dorset and got some insight into the types of problems that arise.

I feel that there is a widening gap in communications between the council and both the permanent and seasonal residents. People are entitled to an answer to their questions even though it might not be the answer that they want to hear. Diplomacy is probably not my strong point.

It is a concern of mine that communications between other municipal councils, and also county council, are not being sufficiently pursued. In the future we will all have to face problems such as the water levels, fire protection, waste management, recreational land use and other various environmental concerns. Years and years of complaints and discussions on the Trent-

(more on page 17)

Bob Sisson
Council

The past three years have been very interesting to me. I am very pleased to have been a part of the many projects that were accomplished this term.

Being a local person has helped me a great deal in my past term. Knowing the area is beneficial in making some decisions that have to be made.

I have sat on various committees over the past three years which I feel are a great asset in understanding municipal affairs. Each committee gives you an idea of what problems exist in the departments.

As a councillor I believe that our townships have grown and moved ahead in the last three years. This was not done by an individual effort but by a group of people on council. It is my feeling that our townships can keep growing under the proper leadership of our town council.

There are numerous issues that I am sure will be looked at in the new year. The biggest factor with any issue or project is funding. In regard to my issues the fire agreements will be studied and updated. Water access to lakes is another project that should be looked into. These are just some of the things that I will

Lewis A. Stevens
Council

Born 51 years ago in Minden and raised in this area, I finished my education in Camp Borden as well as completing five years in the Canadian Armed Forces. I worked in Oakville, Ontario in the automotive industry for several years before returning to Minden in 1971.

On my return, I worked with the County Roads Department as Secretary-Bookkeeper for five years and then moved over to Minden Shell as owner-operator.

Thoughts on the area: Environment - Waste disposal is a major concern. Relying too heavily on land-fill. Recycling should be studied and implemented. It is starting out on a small scale in some areas now, and must have more emphasis placed on it. We can't bury problems forever! Let's hope that recycling will lessen the magnitude of our problems and give us more time for a lasting solution.

Water levels: Recreational water is the mainstay of our area economy. Obviously it is on the priority list of those south of us. I presume we are at the source of this water, yet we can't control it! The survival of our economy depends on this water. All of our needs must be taken into consideration and implemented in conjunction with our southern friends, and the areas owning the dams etc., -- but Haliburton County is the major source and our needs must be accommodated.

Fire Protection: Probably one of the most underrated services of the area, yet one of the most essential necessary for the development and progress

Severn problem have accomplished nothing. Possibly a united county-wide stance is required. Acid rain is not going to go away because the Council of Anson, Hindon and Minden has forbidden it by a by-law. Then again Haliburton County would not have much to offer without our beautiful trees and sparkling waters. I don't know the answers to these problems but I am willing to spend the time exploring the possibilities and attempt to get some honest answers.

The recreation property between the arena and the library/museum has been studied to death and seems to be on the back burner again. I was told what a great improvement the Bobcaygeon Road would be in June but I haven't forgotten driving over that mess all winter last year, and I will pass judgement on it next May after it goes through a winter.

As I said at the beginning I do not have any Municipal Government experience but I do have the time, the patience to learn, and I am committed to give the taxpayers the answers when I am asked the questions.

follow up on if I am elected November 14.

I feel that the past three years have been a great experience for myself and I would be proud to serve another term as councillor for Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Board of Education - three to be elected

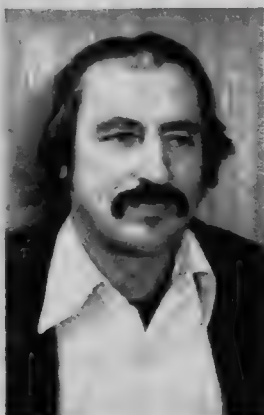

Wally Bunn

As a long time resident of Minden, I have represented Anson, Hindon and Minden on the Land Division Committee for the last nine years. I am actively involved in the Haliburton County Farmers' Association and also a charter member of the Lions Club.

If elected to the school board, I would be committed to having an open mind to all aspects of debate, working toward the development of a better education system for the children, which are the future. As each problem arises to deal with it, and find a solution that would benefit the whole system. As a father of four children, three of whom are in the elementary school, and one in high school, I now would like to be involved with the future planning of our education system.

John Cooper

Completed grade 12 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, 4 year technical course; 2 years Sir Sandford Fleming College, Lindsay, Heavy Equipment Technician, 4 years Recreation Committee Anson, Hindon and Minden.

I am running as a Board trustee for a second term because I feel that it takes one term to become familiar with the operation of the school board and to decide your priorities as a board member.

My personal concerns are to see an addition put on the Archie Stouffer School, with the necessary provincial funding being provided. Schooling in portable buildings is not the answer.

My second concern is the soaring cost of education. Quality can still be achieved without unnecessarily high costs.

Wayne Cox

I may be a new comer as far as running for a seat on the County School Board but I have had a keen interest in what has been happening for some time.

I have been a resident or always considered Minden to be my home. I received the majority of my education in the county system. When I graduated from grade 12 at H.H.S.S., I then went one step farther by attending Sir Sandford Fleming College in Peterborough for 2 years. My fellow students at college made me realize that the level of education which I had received back in Haliburton County was much superior to the counties in surrounding areas.

After graduating from S.S.F.C. as a Graphic Technician I worked in the city for a time but soon came to the conclusion that the Highlands was where my heart was so I soon returned.

I was hired as an orderly at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home thirteen years ago and I am still employed there but have moved to work in the kitchen department.

I am married with two children. My daughter Meghan is 8 years old and in grade 3 at Archie Stouffer Elementary School and my son Ori is 10 months old.

If elected to the school board I will try to do the best job that I can. As a new comer I am not sure of what I can accomplish but I promise that I will always listen and try my best to get answers when I can or where there is an answer needed.

of the community. A well-instructed, equipped and manned service requires the funding to do it. If it's public money that is needed, we have to arrange it, you go nowhere without it!

Public access to water: I don't like to think of two classes of people, those who live on the lake and those who don't. We are right when we say that we are a land of lakes. Those who elect to locate on the lake, with the privacy of their next door neighbour of the same mind, would be able to reside with peace of mind in that atmosphere, but if they knowingly elect to reside next to public land, whether it is developed or not at the time, should expect the land to be public. I would hope that there are sufficient areas of public land which could and should be developed to allow all area residents to have water access for pleasure and enjoyment, with consideration of area residents and environment.

Ambulance Service: Past councils can be proud of their efforts with the Ambulance Service, as can the Staff of this operation. A service the area must continually upgrade for our economic growth as well as population needs.

Promoters: Our many service clubs, tourist associations, Chamber of Commerce, area sports associations of all ages, are unsurpassed in the promotion of our area. They require and deserve the help, understanding and consideration of the council and area residents in the promotion of their activities, because no one can do it better.

Council's responsibility to taxpayers: The "Guaranteed Income" people support our year round economy, and in return want a progressive living environment, reflecting housing services as well as medical and recreational facilities to accommodate

Our Cottage residents, investing not only in their future, but in the area's future as well, ask that their rights and well-being be respected and provide a recreational atmosphere away from their day-to-day working environment.

Our permanent people, the backbone of our area, whether they be children of the past, like you and me, children of the present, like our sons and daughters or children of the future, need and deserve a place to live with respect, developing skills, working hard and receiving a just return for our labours. We chose to live in this area.

All of these people elect our council to administer the needs of the area to ensure this lifestyle. Council reports to them and I want to be there.

October 11, 3 mm of mixed rain and snow, pH 4.7 from northern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Wendy Ladurantaye

Mrs. Wendy Ladurantaye has been an active and productive member during her first term as trustee on the Haliburton County Board of Education. She has been vice-chairman of the Special Education Advisory Committee for the full three years. During this time she sat on Secondary and Elementary Liason Committees, Hiring for Archie Stouffer Elementary School and Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, Computer Committee, special hiring committees for board-wide elementary hiring and for positions of added responsibility. She was actively involved in the Young Offenders symposium and ad-hoc committee, more recently, Alternative School Program, Pay Equity and Special Projects.

"I was very pleased to chair the Accommodation Committee for Minden, because I am committed to proper facilities for our students. Portables are not appropriate for our climate though they are better than class overloading. Serving on this committee made me aware of the real growth we are experiencing. 10.2% and 8% increases are significant for our community. Although this growth is positive overall, we are now facing overcrowding. The short-term solution, to rent the former Dollo I.G.A. building was a positive step in making the government aware of our need of a permanent addition to Archie Stouffer Elementary School. The students are in a comfortable building for the time being. What surprised me was the tremendous support the Accommodation Committee received. It made me realize the public is interested and that support helped to keep us going."

Ladurantaye is now vice-chairman of the board, and as well as regular board, committee and ad-hoc meetings, she has been requested to address Cottager Associations on current issues and taxes. "For the most part, I have been pleased with the overall attitude of our seasonal residents. Once they understand the situation, they are supportive of the Board of Education. Their attitude is that we must work together."

In the past, Ladurantaye has been Minden Nursery Play President, Archie Stouffer Elementary School Home and School Association President, Agnes Jamieson Gallery Board director, and is a Sunday School teacher. Ladurantaye owns a stained glass studio in Minden, and teaches glasswork for Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Wendy and Brian have three children who attend Archie Stouffer Elementary School. The boys are involved in hockey and their daughter in figure skating, so as parents they are involved as well.

"I am never bored. The greatest satisfaction of serving on the Haliburton County Board of Education, is that I have actively contributed to my community and to our children's future. If given the opportunity to serve as trustee for another term, I will continue to work hard, be involved, and pursue my personal commitment to realize an addition to Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

Thank you.

Mary Anne
Wilson

Mary Anne Wilson has enthusiastically entered the race for one of Anson, Hindon and Minden's three seats on the Haliburton County Board of Education.

With three school aged children of their own, Mary Anne and husband Wayne feel privileged to have them receiving their schooling in the Haliburton County system and are eager to see the high quality of education maintained. The recent addition of the third trustee for Anson, Hindon and Minden makes this election an excellent opportunity for Mary Anne to join the School Board and make a significant contribution.

Like her own mother, who spent many years raising her children at home before becoming a trustee, Mary Anne sees serving as a trustee on the Board of Education as an opportunity to continue to have a real and meaningful effect on their further development during school years.

Having lived in the village of Minden nine years, she is well known in the community. Mary Anne feels her experience as a mother of school aged children, providing day care in her home, leading the Junior Horticultural Society and her day contact with Minden area residents enables her to appreciate the local concerns. Open discussion with Mary Anne is made easy by her friendly, sincere nature.

Earlier this year Mrs. Wilson was asked by the Haliburton County School Board to speak on their behalf and also on the behalf of several parents and ratepayers who were in support of the temporary housing of classes at the old IGA site when the temporary rezoning proposal was heard by the Ontario Municipal Board.

Mary Anne graduated grade thirteen in Barrie and worked with Bell Canada there as a telephone operator for four years. After her marriage to Wayne Wilson moved to Guelph where she worked in the Library at the University of Guelph for a short time before the birth of her first child. She spent thirteen years at home with her three children, much of that time running a small in-home day care facility. Recently, Mary Anne has joined the Toronto Dominion Bank in Minden as a part-time teller. Over the years, Mrs. Wilson has been involved in several organizations within Haliburton County including: serving three years on the executive of the Minden Horticultural Society, leader of the Junior Horticultural Society, serving on a panel for the Haliburton County Children's Services Committee (the forum from which C.H.A.C.E. developed), and executive member of the Minden Figure Skating Club.

"I believe," says Mary Anne, "since all citizens pay school taxes, either directly or indirectly, and everyone, permanent and seasonal residents alike, benefit from the education of the children in our County, it is necessary to ensure that we continue to get top value for our Education tax dollar."

Mary Anne Wilson is ready to serve, willing to listen, and, in return for your vote, able to act on your behalf.

Meet the candidates - Lutterworth Councillor - three to be elected

Maurice Boyd
Council

I was born, 1925 in Kilworthy, Ontario. I spent most of my school years in Toronto.

I married Dorothy, in 1946 and we lived on Toronto Islands until 1957. Both our son and daughter were born on the Island and at present we have seven grandchildren. I managed an independent grocery store for that 11 years.

We moved to Scarborough and I was a Dominion store manager for the next 10 years.

In 1966 I left the food business and went with Hilroy School and Stationery as a sales representative.

We spent our summer vacations at Miners Bay.

Dorothy and I moved to Lutterworth Estates in August of 1983. Since moving to Lutterworth, I have been active in many community projects. For the past three years I have been an active member of the Lions Club. I enjoy meeting people and working with the public.

Last year, I received a Certificate of Merit from the Canadian government in recognition of community service.

I feel I have the experience and time to be your Councilman for the Township of Lutterworth.

Lisa Mercer
Council

I am running for my second term as Councillor for Lutterworth Township.

I share with everyone the concern of waste management and fully support the study being conducted at the County level.

Public access to our lakes is a major issue throughout the County, which I feel should be addressed. I would like to see more access points developed, however, there are two parties to consider in this regard - the adjacent landowners and the people that would enjoy the use of the area. Both parties should be given careful consideration prior to improving area.

Obviously fire protection is one of our main concerns; considering the fact that Lutterworth Township does not have its own fire department. The present council has started a reserve fund for a future fire department, which is definitely a step in the right direction for our growing Township.

At present, these are our most important issues at hand, however, all matters brought before council should be given just as much consideration.

Whenever there is a change in a Municipal Council the Township is basically at a standstill for approximately 18 months while the new council goes through the learning experience. The past three years has been a new and interesting learning experience for me and I feel that if the previous Council members have been doing the job properly it is of great importance to maintain this continuity to keep the Township running smoothly.

I have worked for Donald Finn, a local Solicitor, for almost six years and feel that my experience through my job directly benefits my understanding of most of the issues brought before Council. I also have past experience in public affairs and banking which also assist me in my position as Councillor.

I started coming to the area fifteen years ago as a cottager and moved permanently to the County eight years ago. I have been married for five years and we have a newborn son.

I am interested in our community needs and hope to represent all ratepayers fairly and equally for the next term of office.

Don Grozelle
Council

I was born and raised on the Davis Lake Road near Miner's Bay. I am 51 years old. Worked in Oshawa for about 20 years from the age of 16. I am married and have a family of 4 boys and 2 girls. Returned from Oshawa to buy a place on Davis Lake Road.

No rash promises, I'll just do my best for the people.

It is a pleasure and honour to have the opportunity to serve as your Reeve of Lutterworth Township and I look forward to the challenges and the responsibilities of office in the coming term.

Communication is vital and I am anxious to work together to strengthen the identity of Lutterworth as a Township and Haliburton as a County and its responsiveness to our present and future needs.

Meet the candidates - Lutterworth Councillor - three to be elected

Bill Valentine Councillor

Because the regular meetings of Haliburton County Council conflict with his work as a teacher at the high school, Bill Valentine will be running for one of the three positions as Councillor instead of seeking re-election as Reeve.

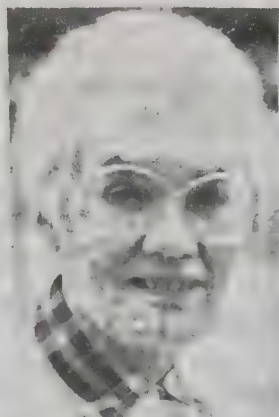

Valentine was first elected to council in 1967, but resigned midway through the one-year term in order to go to Uganda. He re-elected as Councillor in 1971, and in 1978 he was elected Reeve of the township. He is now finishing his first three-year term as Reeve.

Being Reeve, though, also means sitting on County Council, which holds daytime meetings. As a teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, it is impossible for Valentine to get that time off to attend all the meetings.

Valentine enjoys serving on council and he likes dealing with people. As far as accomplishments, Valentine says he has continued to look out for the ordinary person. He says he has been a taxpayer for 50 years and he will continue to look after the needs of taxpayers if elected to council.

Valentine was born and raised in Norland. He moved to Lutterworth Township in 1963 when he was hired by the Haliburton County Board of Education. He says he is the fourth generation of Valentines to live in Lutterworth Township.

Elizabeth Wright
Council

I am seeking re-election as Councillor so as to be able to continue to put to good use the knowledge and experience gained during the previous term of office.

Understanding and interpreting Lutterworth's Comprehensive Zoning By-laws takes time and study in order to apply them to orderly development and land use within the Township. The past 3 years' experience has provided that important foundation.

Lutterworth Township is growing, and growth necessitates changes such as improved fire protection, initiation of a recycling program is a must as a partial move toward coping with our waste disposal problem.

As funds permit, the Township roads system should be gradually expanded and we should work toward improving public access to our many lakes.

F.O.C.A. meeting

The annual meeting of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Associations (FOCA) will be held November 12 in Toronto. FOCA executive director Jerry Strickland announced the date of the meeting in a recent press release.

The agenda for the half day meeting includes a speech by the Assistant Deputy Minister of Natural Resources, R.J. Burgar, a discussion of the Community Wildlife Improvement Program, problem issues surrounding recreational boating and an update on taxation matters affecting cottage

Injury accident

On October 15, George Pettes of Minden was northbound on Highway 35 south of Wren Lake. Pettes lost control of the vehicle on a curve and collided with the rock cut. Pettes was taken to Minden Hospital by ambulance.

Constable B.J. Connelly investigated.

Jean Anthon of Mountain Lake, the President of FOCA, will chair the annual meeting of the association which will include a number of reports, approval of directors' actions over the past year and the election of directors for the coming year.

The meeting, which will be held at the Wharton Renaissance Hotel, Highway 401 and Kennedy Road in Scarborough, is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., with registration and refreshments prior to the meeting. Registration fee is $10 per person.

Fail to report accident

Janice Szewo age 37 of Toronto rolled her 1982 Chevrolet into the ditch on the Minnick Road on August 25. The accident was not reported to police. The vehicle was located and reported to police as an abandoned vehicle on October 15, 1988. After investigation, Szewo has been charged with failing to report an accident.

Constable Dave Mc Martin investigated.

Stolen truck

A truck stolen from a hunt camp early October 16 near Dorset, was found later that same day rolled over in a ditch demolished. Mark Lockyer of Scarborough when reporting the theft which occurred between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m. indicated the spare keys had been left in the vehicle.

Constable Dave MacMartin is investigating.

Impaired driver

As a result of an accident investigation, police found Roman Popit age 30 of Rexdale, the driver, to be impaired. There were no injuries in the accident which occurred late October 16 on Highway 648 near Wilberforce.

Clarification

Last week's editorial referred to the fact that ambulance service for Haliburton County is now handled through a central dispatch office in Lindsay. According to a member of the ambulance service, the report raised questions in the minds of some residents as to what number should be called to obtain ambulance service. While the actual dispatching is done from Lindsay, Haliburton County residents should use the local phone number listed in the phone book and other directories, 457-1721.

Hello Readers. Beautiful weather for October. The leaves will soon be gone but, it still is beautiful country.

We are glad to report Violet Thornett is home from the hospital and coming along nicely. Angus Coulter is feeling much better. Maron Rose spent the day with her son Bob on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Caruthers visited with Mary Oliver on Saturday, and also called on Angus Coulter. Anna Gordon, Marion McDonald, Jean and George Hewitt called here for a short visit on Tuesday.

The Minden Women's Institute served our Thursday afternoon tea and goodies. It was really good. Thank you very much ladies.

Wednesday night the Earl Coopers came and gave us some real good music. Thank you folks very much.

Our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Mary O'Toole who passed away recently after a lengthy illness.

Why not put pen to paper,

And write someone a letter.

And if they're feeling ill or sad,

It'll help them to feel better.

Till next week.

Bright costumes add to Hallowe'en safety

Safety measures for children take on added importance during Hallowe'en, when, in their excitement, trick-or-treaters are more apt to forget to obey the basic safety rules.

In order to ensure Hallowe'en is a safe and enjoyable outing, parents should follow these guidelines:

- Masks and hoods can obstruct a child's vision. Makeup can be used instead, or eyeholes should be made large enough to allow the child to see properly.

- Costumes should not be so long that a child is in danger of tripping.

- Costumes should be brightly coloured.

- Children should travel in groups or with their parents, and they should be instructed to avoid dark alleys, parks and schoolyards should they become separated from the group.

- Children should be reminded to look all ways before crossing the street and told not to go into a house unless accompanied by their parents.

- With safety in mind, children should be encouraged to trick or treat in areas familiar to them.

- Parents should check all treats before allowing children to eat them. Chocolate bars should be broken in half and fruit cut up in sections. Any suspicious looking treats should be discarded.

"DON'T SPRING A LEAK"

By the end of 1990 ALL underground gasoline or oil storage tanks will have to comply with Safety Standards or be removed. This affects all unprotected tanks installed before 1974.

Avoid any cleanup costs caused by a leak, with a possible fine by having your tanks updated.

HHSS honours the top students of 1987-88

The High School auditorium was filled Saturday night as the outstanding students of the 198 - 88 school year received their honours. On hand to witness the presentations were parents, relatives, teachers and fellow students.

Among the honours awarded Saturday evening were thirteen Ontario Scholarships. The scholarship is presented to students who achieve at least an 80% over-all average in their graduating year classes. The fact there were eleven recipients of the award from a school with a total enrolment of 600 is quite an accomplishment. There were 100 students in the grades 12 and 13 graduating classes.

The students who received the Ontario Scholarship and award of $100 included: Richard Beers, Lynn Bibby, Chris Bunker, Andy Cooper, Laura Cross, Judy Finlay, Darryl Goodall, Ian Hicks, Tom MacLeod, Helga Meyers, Andrew Milne, Lindsey Tashlin and Darren Whittaker. The awards were presented by Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

Receiving Haliburton Highlands Honour Society Certificates, presented by the Director of Education, Stuart Baker, were: Dwayne Cooper, Jaro Cooper, Deneena Davis, Tracy Emmerson, Kim McCracken, Andrew Milne, Nora Morrison, Terry Noble, Sheldon Perry, Jeleen Schroder, Robert Thomas, Robert Waller and Chris Youngdale.

Seven students received School Letters, in recognition of academic achievement and enthusiastic involvement in the life of the school. The recipients included: Richard Beers, Lynn Bibby, Andy Cooper, Laura Cross, Darryl Goodall, Tom MacLeod and Gordon Wood. The presentations were made by HHSS principal Peter Forgrave.

The following awards, scholarships and bursaries were presented during the evening:

by John Beattie, Legion Branch 636

Beginning with my omission from September's column - at Kinmount Branch's Labour Day Parade, members of our Branch paraded our new Branch 636 Legion colours for the very first time.

Membership Chairman Frank Dunsford stresses that all Fraternal Affiliates wishing to renew their membership must do so before December 31, after approval of the Executive and General membership. We are only allowed a percentage of overall membership as Fraternalists.

On Sunday, October 23 our Colour Party and members attended Brechin-Mara Branch. The parade was to their Cenotaph.

Poppy Chairman Gareth Kellett reports the following. During the 1987 Poppy Fund Drive we collected $1,193.50. During the year we have spent $740.07 for supplies and materials. The balance is now $453.43. Under the auspices of Ontario Command, the Legion is again sponsoring another poster and poem contest in conjunction with Remembrance Day. The contest ends November 30th. This is our first contest with our new Minden Branch locally sponsoring this Remembrance event. Students have been informed of the details.

The Poppy Campaign itself will run from November 1 to the 11th, and November 5 is Poppy Day.

We will be holding our Remembrance Day Parade on Sunday, November 13, at 3:00 p.m. We will march from the Municipal Offices to the Cairn and then march back. We will have a social hour afterward at the Legion. We are inviting Haliburton, Kinmount, Cobocok, Fenelon Falls, Brechin-Mara and Beaverton Branches to attend. Comrade Bob Clayton will be the Parade Marshal and we will gather at the Municipal Offices at 2:30 p.m. We will also have a Parade to the Cairn on November 11 at which time the pupils from Archie Stouffer School will attend and participate. The Bugler will be from the school.

Our next General Meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, November 2.

The following is now on display in our Branch foyer.

Lest We Forget
(written by Vera L. Stevens, February, 1971)

The battle scarred countryside
Now peaceful and still
With only a flag flying
Silently on top of the hill.

Guarding little white crosses
Neatly arranged in a row Barely visible neath the Fresh fallen snow.

An eerie sad silence
Which hangs all around
Reflects the brave spirit
Of the men underground.

Once a year they're remembered
For great bravery and deed
By the prayers and red poppies
To help those alone and in need.

But let's not forget the men
Who have long since been gone
For without their brave deeds
The battle might still be going on.

Kinnettes start new year

September started a new year for the Executive of: Secretary - Sharon Crowe; Treasurer - Elsie Stamp; Bulletin Editor and Past President - Norma Amyotte; Registrar - Margaret Prentice; Directors - Doris Stewart, Ruth Travers, Sheila Carrell and Barbara Elder; Vice President - Sue Ripley who has taken over as President while Sue Payne is on Leave of Absence.

Our thanks to everyone who has supported our projects, as a few of our donations for last term were - Haliburton County Association for Children with Learning Disabilities; Retinitis Pigmentosa;

Anson, Hindon and Minden Recreation Committee for Minden Swim and Summer Programme; Fire Victims; Guild of Fine Arts; Home Support; Red Cross; Victorian Order of Nurses; Stage Band of HHSS; Cystic Fibrosis - etc.

Donations so far this year - United Way of Victoria - Haliburton

County; Hearing Society.

Kinnettes now have open membership.

Congratulations to winners of Demolition Derby - 1st Don Burgess; 2nd Lorne Burgess; 3rd Dave Burgess.

More next month by Kinnette Norma Amyotte.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all who were so helpful and kind to us during Ken's illness and at the time of his death. Many thanks to Dr. Dawson's nurses and staff of Minden Hospital, for all the phone calls, floral arrangements, memorial donations, cards, money, food brought to our home, Gordon Monk and staff, Wendell Sedgwick for his kind words, those who called at our home and the ladies who catered to the lunch at the Gelert Community Centre. Your kindness will never be forgotten.
Dorothy McElwain & family

CARD OF THANKS

Jim and Bob would like to thank all the people who helped to make the dump party such a roaring success. We really appreciate our friends.

I would like to thank Dr. Asbell for coming to my assistance recently. Also Anthony, Nicholas and Chris.

AT REST

DONES
John Alfred

- suddenly and peacefully at his home on Hall's Lake on or about October 11. John, known to his family as Jack, loved Hall's Lake and his privacy and was fortunate to have enjoyed 22 years of retirement there. John was in his 73rd year. Mourned by sisters Evalyn Hynard and Elfrida Wild, brother Alfred Dones, nieces Daina Dones and Susan King (all of Toronto) and nephew Peter Hynard of Minden. Sadly missed by his neighbours, the Odell and Henselwood families of Hall's Lake. Interred at the Twelve Mile Lake Cemetery.
